STAY-AT-HOMES REWARDED

Holiday Glimpses at the Social Barometer.

IN TOWN.

Perhaps those students who went home for Christmas and had all kinds of good times awaiting them there, thought they were going to have all the fun, and we who had our homes in town would have nothing to do but be lonesome for their company. How mistaken they were!

Of course the first thing on the program was the preparation for Christmas. With shopping, making Christmas presents and practising for entertainments we were as busy as bees for a little while. But after one entertainment on Monday evening and four on Tuesday evening, Christmas was over, and we had plenty of time to visit our friends and engage in frolics.

Then began the parties; Miss Lillian Page entertained a few of her friends one evening during Christmas week, and Miss Janet Roseboro followed suit a few evenings later. Several of her guests had such a delightful time that they remained all night and actually became sick when they did have to go home.

Thus going from one thing to another we spent very pleasantly the two weeks of our vacation. Many gifts were exchanged, both on Christmas and New Year's, but the greatest gift of all was a New Year's gift from Mr. J. F. Allen to Mr. Regar, of Tampa. At high noon New Year's Day he gave his daughter to this young man in marriage, and a lovely gift she was.

Although we have enjoyed very much our vacation, which seemed all too short, we are glad to see our friends back and hope they are glad to be with us once more.

ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

To be sure when the holidays had set in with their quiet and loneliness there was a considerable contrast between them and the busy days of the past term. But let no one suppose that there was nothing to do. On the contrary, there were the tennis courts, the dining hall and parlors of Chaudoin and all the inducements of the wild woods. In fact these last furnished material for one of the most exciting times of the vacation. But let us have the facts.

One day when Christmas fun was at its height five doughty sportsmen thought they would a camping go. Accordingly they set out for the St. Johns river, armed with a mule and wagon, tooth-picks, blankets, and many similar fearful weapons. That night it did not rain—it poured—and five bedraggled sportsmen vied with each other for the privilege of sleeping on the lonely dry spot beneath the wagon.

Further progress was attended with occasional entertaining incidents, among them being a lengthy argument with the obstinate mule regarding the advisability of taking the ferry at Crow's Bluff, Mr. Hill's exciting somersault exhibition, a camp-fire supper and many other experiences.

All returned the next day, none the worse for wear, and reported a most interesting time. Those in the party were Messrs. D. O. Rogers, Harold Smith, Fred Smith, Wallace Hill, and Blocker (now you understand why the sleeping space ran short).

AT CHAUDOIN.

Unlike former years Chaudoin Hall during the Christmas holidays was practically deserted, Miss Hunsaker and Miss Whiting the sole survivors, only being there a part of the time. Such a quiet, restful, happy time as they had!

ATHLETICS FOR WINTER TERM

Baseball the Main Centre of Interest—Field Day.

BASEBALL.

The baseball season is here—the season when the fan dreams of ten inning games; the player of Ormond Hotel "eating" and home runs; and the reporter sweats over new sporting adjectives.

At a meeting held in room five Friday, the 4th, Capt. "Speck" Campbell called the squad out for the first practice on Monday afternoon.

"Every place on the team is open to the best man," said Capt. Campbell, and it is evident that there will be some hard work done to secure positions. Six of the '06 nine are still in the University who will endeavor to hold their places on the team, while the subs of last year and men newly registered will strive for an "S" this season.

The prospects for a strong team this spring are very bright. Ed Mickle and Pelot, who have divided the honors of the box for two seasons, are in the pitcher's squad again and to them are to be added Hunter, who is registered from Charlotte, N. C., and who has a reputation for strong pitching, and Robinson, who is expected to develop into a new "wizard of the slab" before the end of the season.

The other "S" men in the University held the following positions last year: Capt. "Spotty" behind the bat, Hamlin 1st base, Kirby 2nd base, and Tilden center field. Other new men who have had previous experience are Gautier, an outfielder, Pete Allen, who has played second, and Parsons, who will try for short. Russell King has had experience both as a pitcher and an infielder.

In addition to these about twenty five other aspirants for fame reported Monday afternoon and were assigned to the try out squads.

Mr. Tilden, manager of the team, has been working hard to secure a desirable schedule and indications are that the coming baseball season will be full of interest and enthusiasm. The team will probably take two long trips, one to Miami and the other to Georgia. In addition to this, Ormond, the K. M. I. and the Florida colleges will doubtless be given games and the season will be filled out with games between Stetson and city teams.

Capt. Campbell in addressing the baseball meeting Friday afternoon said, "I'm going to have a batting team. The team that hits the ball is the one that makes the scores. We have much better material than in former years. Mr. Pelot has coached raw material into a winning team and I'm sure that with the men Stetson has this year the season will be a successful one."

ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

On December 8 the Athletic Committee announced a Field Day for the following Saturday. This event is held annually but is not made the feature in our athletics that it should. None of the men entered had trained for the event and were consequently not able to make the records they possibly could. The events and records took place as follows:

100 Yard Dash.

Entries: Jones, Selden, Hall, Hendry, Pounds, Hamlin, Kirby. Kirby winner, time 12 1-5 seconds. Jones and Hendry seconds, time 12 2-5 seconds.

440 Yard Dash.

Entries: Jones, Hendry, Mickie, Kirby. Mickie, first, time 1 minute, 40 1-5 seconds; Jones 2nd.

880 Yard Run.

Entries: Wilder, Gautier, Robinson. Winner, Wilder, time, 2 minutes, 48 2-5 seconds. Gautier second.

Running High Jump.

Entries: Wilder, Hamlin, Kirby, Pounds, Gautier, Watson.

Winner, Kirby; distance, 55 inches. Hamlin second.

Running Broad Jump.

Entries: Selden, L. F. Carlton, Wilder, Willard, Kirby, Pounds. Winner, Wilder; distance, 17 ft 2 1 2 inches. Kirby second.

880 Yard Relay Race.

Entries, College, — Botts, F.; Mickie, Ed; Tilden; Johnson, K. Academy—Pounds; Carlton, W. S.; Chamberlin; Selden. Winner, Academy; time, 1 minute, 51 2-5 seconds.

December Vespers.

At the two concluding vesper services of the fall term the musical side of the worship was the dominant feature. On December 9 the regular choir was augmented by a large number of voices chosen from among the students. The singing and Scripture reading were arranged in the form of a cantata, and thus by selections from the Scriptures and from the beautiful Christmas hymns the story of the Nativity was told.

On the following Sunday afternoon occurred the annual Christmas vesper service, with its charming program of anthems and solos.

Miss Hunsaker spent part of the holidays very pleasantly in St. Augustine.

Messrs. C. A. Hallenbeck and L. S. Paltree are occupying a room on the second floor of Stetson Hall.

Mr. George Leitner, an old Stetson boy, has returned and registered in the Law School.

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT

Every student enrolled in the department during the fall term has returned except four or five of the little ones who are ill.

Among the States represented in the new term's enrollment in the Normal and Model schools are: Indiana, Montana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Georgia and Florida. And still they come.

Mrs. G. Prentiss Carson is now conducting classes in Domestic Science from 10:30 to 12 and from 2:15 to 3 on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The first of these periods is given to the 7th and 8th grade girls; the second, or afternoon period, to the Normal school girls. After the first week of the term the parents of the members of the classes will be cordially welcomed as visitors.

The members of the Normal school faculty in attendance at the State Teachers' Association at St. Augustine were: President Hulley, Director Suhrie, Prof. Morse and Miss Merryman. The meeting was a very profitable one and doubtless opened the way for a number of new enrollments at the University.

During the vacation the director visited the High Schools at Bartow, Ft. Meade, Wauchula and Arcadia and delivered educational addresses at these points. On Friday last he gave several periods of instruction before the Hillsboro County Teachers' Association at Tampa. He expresses himself as highly pleased with the excellent prospects for a large enrollment in the spring term review class. In one county nine young men have signified their intention to come. Mr. Suhrie says, "there ought to be at least eighteen young people from that county." His reasoning is no doubt good, for to use the darkey's homely phrase for it, "Whah de bredren congregate dar will de sistern flock also."

On Monday last a class in Sight Singing was organized, with a promising attendance at its first meeting. This class will be under the direction of Mrs. Cherry, and meets every Monday afternoon at three, in DeLand Hall.

Vesper Service.

The vesper service last Sunday was a most impressive one for the beginning of a new term and a new year. Dr. Hulley's address was replete with helpful thoughts and very fitting for the occasion. He spoke of the old year and its opportunities, which are irrevocably past and gone, and encouraged us to forget its blunders and disappointments and begin life over again at the opening door of the New Year. He emphasized particularly the penalty of wasting opportunities and impressed upon our minds the solemn truth that an opportunity abused is forever lost.

Special music was rendered at the service. The Ladies Chorus sang the beautiful selection "Over the Stars there is Rest"; the Glee Club, assisted by other University and town talent, rendered "The Heavens Resound," adopted from Beethoven; and a large chorus choir led the congregational singing.

Among the new students are Misses Elizabeth Wilson, Ernestine Scott and Hazel Peek. All are very much delighted with their first impressions of life at Stetson.

STAY-AT-HOMES REWARDED.

No bells in the morning to disturb their dreams. No having to study, to teach. Nothing to do but what they wished. No noise or confusion—nothing to mar the peaceful, happy calm that rested o'er Chaudoin.

Miss Hunsaker was at home very little, having so many engagements to fulfill. I believe one day she had four invitations to dinner. Is it any wonder that she is looking so well? Miss Whiting—well she never could remember what she did, the moments went by so swiftly, but she certainly did enjoy the vacation. Whenever the two met on the stairs or in the hall the conversation invariably was as follows: "Oh, aren't we having a good time?"

The maximum number in the dining room at this time was seven, but occasionally it dwindled to two, while on Christmas day everyone in the dormitories was fortunate enough to be invited out to dinner. I wish some of you could have gone in to the dining hall during the holidays.

One morning at about breakfast time I opened the door and looked in. I couldn't see anything but bare tables at first but soon away down in the farthest extremity of the hall dimly perceived two little black objects—thought they were mice at first but imagine my surprise when, on going down to examine them, I found Mr. Blocker and Mr. Wallace Hill! To say the least they looked lonesome. On Christmas night the tree and presents delighted the hearts of all who had any share in them. Santa Claus had been kind to all, and if the candy was a little hard, what matter? As Mr. W. Hill said, "That only made it last longer."

Friday and Saturday of the last week of vacation Miss Whiting was dean of Chaudoin, Miss Hunsaker having gone to St. Augustine. Monday morning at 3 a. m. Miss Martien and Miss Martin returned from their trip to Havana looking happy and contented with everything and everybody. On Monday evening Stetson Hall and Chaudoin combined forces, so to speak. The boys built a big fire, all gathered around the fireplace, ate candy, nuts, fruit cake, told stories, listened to the travelers' interesting tales of Havana, played games and had a merry time. All wanted to watch for the New Year but were so sleepy that they decided to leave that care in the hands of all others who were keeping vigil, and say "Happy New Year" in the morning.

That was the end of the holidays. No more quiet, no peace in Chaudoin for months to come. Wednesday night when the old students came back many went to Miss Hunsaker and Miss Whiting to say "You poor things! Wasn't it a shame to make you stay here? How you must have missed us," etc., and no amount of talking would convince them that it was not lonesome, that they were not missed, that those who were fated to stay at Chaudoin during the holidays had the best time of all.

C. V. W., a survivor.

Regar-Allen.

At noon of the first day of the new year Miss Fannie Allen and Mr. William Regar, of Tampa, were married in the Baptist church. This happy occasion was of great interest to Miss Allen's many friends and the church was well filled. The decorations, principally of bamboo and potted plants, were massed on the rostrum and almost concealed the pulpit and organ loft. The music, in charge of Miss Eva Baker, opened with a march by Clark and the Nuptial Song by DuBois. As the bridal procession formed the organ changed to the Lohengrin wedding march and then to a very soft, low composition during the ceremony. When Rev. Oates had pronounced the young people man and wife, the music blended into the Mendelssohn wedding march, and the bride and groom, followed by the congratulations of their friends, left the church for the home of the bride, where further gaieties consumed the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Regar was a student at the University some years ago, and has the kindest wishes of a number of school friends.

Farewell Spread.

Thursday evening in Chaudoin Miss Hazel E. Rowland was given what was styled "A farewell spread."

All of the four (hundred) were there and many others, one of the members of the faculty honoring the feast by his presence. It was just like all other Chaudoin spreads, except for the fact that amid all the laughter and fun there was a tinge of real sadness. The Ell was to lose one of its most popular members; the girls, a friend. As usual there were all sorts of goods things to eat, and in their sorrow strange no one lost her appetite. As one always feels good-natured and happy after a good meal, so the girls when they had eaten all that was possible then, and taken what was left to their respective homes, were in the best of spirits. Jokes were cracked, College songs were sung, and about ten o'clock a grand serenade was given in honor of the Chicago girls. Oh, it was a beautiful concert! We only hope the new students appreciated our efforts. All tunes, no tunes, all keys; all voices were represented. Not until their throats were parched and dry—and that was quite a while later—did the musicians think it necessary to wind up their melodies (?) and retire for the night. It is needless to say that the faculty member was not present at the concert, but we know she wanted to be. You can judge yourself of the fun we had when you hear Miss Rowland's good-night speech "O girls, I can't go home and leave all this!"

There are several girls from the University of Chicago who have recently become inmates of Chaudoin.

Y. M. C. A.

The first Y. M. C. A. meeting of the term was led by Mr. Moffatt, who took for his subject the question, "What is Christianity to me?" In his remarks he told us the story of St. Augustine and his interest in Cicero; that he spent all the time he could in reading it. One night as he slept he dreamed that he died and when he reached the gate of Heaven and was asked who he was, said he was St. Augustine. But the keeper replied, "No, you are Cicero." St. Augustine awoke with a start, and for the first time realized that what dominates us here really determines what we are.

This was a consecration meeting and those who took part brought out the idea that Christianity is not the life of a shut-up martyr, but a life of the truest broadness and freedom.

At the end of the meeting a short business session was held in which was discussed the question of sending delegates to the State conference at Gainesville.

Miss Martlen and Miss Martin enjoyed a trip to Cuba during the holidays.

Everything in School Supplies at Allen's, next to the Postoffice.

Misses Fuchs and Mellon spent a pleasant vacation at home in Tampa.

Miss Rena Waas and Miss Kate Bogart returned Sunday from Fernandina.

Miss Hazel Rowland will not be here this term; but will go to Chicago University in the Spring. Miss Rowland has been here for two years past, and has a host of friends, who regret her absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Eccles and son, August, are again in DeLand. August has registered in the College Department.

You can find a good supply of Baseball, Tennis and Golf goods at Allen's, next to the Postoffice.

Last Tuesday afternoon Misses Phuna Tattersall, Maude Post and Edna Kline appeared on the scene at Stetson. Like all the other new students they like the University very much.

Mr. H. Prescott Stewart, formerly of Stetson University, who has been attending Perdue University the past term, spent the holiday with his father and mother. He reports life in the North as very agreeable to him, and has gone back to continue his training for electrical engineer.

Gift to Coach Colton.

Just to show that they harbor no hard feeling for the fervid comments which their coach had impartially heaped upon them on the football field, the members of the football squad last field day presented Coach Colton with a watch. For long there had been vague muttering among the athletes as to the form the appreciation should take. At last all were satisfied. The coach was caught as he was entering Elizabeth Hall. Clayberg bravely made the presentation speech, saying by way of prologue that the token was a gentle and constant reminder of the affection which the squad felt for the man who had taught the blood of Stetson men to run green instead of red. The manager then tried to quote poetry as a climax to his speech but could remember only about half of the stirring lines.

Coach Colton was properly taken by surprise. His speech of acceptance is, out of deference to the gentleman, omitted here. However, it was much to the liking of the presentors, who were crowded about. They especially cheered the remark that the other schools had best watch out for Stetson would be there all the time, every second and every minute of it.

The speeches over, the crowd cheered Colton, themselves, the team and the school. Then they adjourned to the athletic meet where Coach Colton and his new watch took the time of the races, of which more appears in another column.

Vice-President, Williams.
Secretary, Wellman.
Treasurer, McNeil.
Critic, Pattishall.
Attorney, McGeachy.

Mr. C. T. Sessions, of Oakland, is one of this term's additions to the Business College.

LOCAL ITEMS

And now for baseball.

Why did "Speck" change his chapel seat?

Go to Fisher's Drug store for Huylers Candy.

Miss Ethel Ames has returned to the University.

Have your Kodak films developed and printed at Reeve Studio.

The Christy brothers have returned and taken rooms in town.

Messrs. P. F. Davis and J. B. Rogers are now at home in Conrad Hall.

The Smith brothers spent much of the vacation at Seabreeze.

We are pleased to note that Miss Ernestine Munsell is again taking work with us.

Messrs. Blocker and Cotton celebrated Xmas Eve by helping "fire" Dean Smith's orange grove.

Misses Elizabeth Carson and Geneva Simpson have returned after a most delightful vacation spent at their homes in Kissimmee.

Chaudoin Hall seems to be a very attractive place even at Vacation time. If you don't believe it ask either Mr. Blocker or Mr. Staley.

Mr. LeSueur Gauden, a well-known '03 Stetson man, spent some time at his DeLand home recently. He was accompanied by one of his chums from Yale.

Dean Smith is just recovering from a threatened attack of pneumonia, the result of his strenuous efforts to protect his orange trees during the cold weather.

Miss Clara Nichols, of Huntington, W. Va., who was a well-known Stetsonite several years ago, spent a week in DeLand during the Xmas vacation, the guest of Miss Carrie Watts.

Mrs. Baldwin has been very ill during the vacation season, and her many friends earnestly hope that her recovery, though slow at present, will be complete in the near future.

Mr. Howard Stewart, who has been pursuing a Tech. Course at Purdue this year, made a visit of ten days' duration in DeLand—and incidentally (?) Orange City—during the Holiday season.

Mr. J. D. Pounds made a brief visit at the University during the Holidays. "Jimmie" was a shining star at Stetson for several years in the past, making himself strongly felt in all sorts of athletics and many other student activities. Since leaving Stetson he has attended Harvard, where he also made good and played right field on the 'varsity baseball team last season.

Mr. Staley got back Monday from a visit to his mother.

White and Black Silk Shirt waists, fancy and plain. G. A. Dreka's. *

Miss Lillian Page has had an attack of fever, but is out again.

Buy your Kodak films, papers and supplies, Reeve Studio. †

Miss Carson reports a royal good time during vacation. This sounds to us like a—pun.

Miss Nellie Ware, formerly a student here, is attending Winston-Salem, this year.

Mrs. Dr. Voorhis, of DeLand, has been chosen to fill the Chair of French, made vacant by the death of Madame Senegas last term.

Miss Nellie Kruse spent a few days of her vacation helping in Dreka's during the Christmas rush.

Pedagogy in Room five has recently received a considerable uplift in the shape of a brand new rostrum.

Miss Isabelle McKinney, who formerly attended Stetson, spent Christmas week in town with her mother and sisters.

Miss Helen Manville was here during the opening days of the term, scattering New Year greetings among her friends.

Mr. Blocker and Mr. Wallace Hill remained in town during the entire vacation, with the exception of a day or two spent on a little hunting trip.

Mrs. Cherry, Mr. Morse, Mr. Suhrie and Mr. Webb Hill were among the number who attended the Teachers' Convention in St. Augustine last week.

After a hard day of study or athletics go to Pfueger's and get an Electric Scalp or Face Massage; it is refreshing and stimulating. Try it only at Pfueger's. *

Stetson Hall had very few inmates during the vacation. Those who remained were Messrs. Blocker, Wallace Hill, Dobarganes, Poujand, and Prof. Hill.

Three exceedingly interesting Chicago girls who have just registered for work in the College are Misses Olga Vondracek, Katherine Cole and Lilly Koenig.

Mr. Staley enjoyed his own company in East Hall for a part of the vacation. But it got too lonely, we presume, and he went to Dade City to visit his mother.

Mr. Marvin Pope was shaking hands with Stetson friends just before Christmas. Marvin is one of Stetson's very best. He has been winning honors at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O., since graduating here in the famous "naughty-two" class. He took his degree at Western Reserve last year, and is now pursuing a law course.

Mr. Blocker took dinner at Stetson Sunday noon.

Mr. Lew Lyons returned last Monday.

Who said "Spread?" Let Dreka supply you. †

Miss Corinne Pelton was unfortunately ill during vacation time, but is now at work again.

Mr. D. C. Hull will probably be back with us next term. We shall be glad to welcome him.

Misses Lois and Gertrude Casper enjoyed meeting their parents in Jacksonville, and spending the vacation with them.

Mr. H. L. Clayberg spent his vacation in New York City visiting relatives. Did he have a good time? Well rather!

Mr. Russell W. Farnell had a gloomy time these holidays wrestling with a cold. We are fortunate to have him back with us again.

Added interest is being shown in social hour this term. The department of domestic science also opens this term. Quite a coincidence.

Mr. George Conover is making strides towards success in the law. He has secured a responsible position on the law staff of the Consolidated Naval Stores Company of Jacksonville.

During the holidays Mr. C. L. Wilder subdued a mighty saurian near the public square of his home town, Plant City. The outward protection of the monster hangs in solemn state on the outside wall of the stable back of the East House.

Mr. LeSueur Gauden, another old Stetson man, brought with him a classmate from Yale to enjoy the vacation. They spent part of the holidays hunting and fishing along the Indian River, and the rest of the time at the home of Mr. Gauden's parents in DeLand. They returned on Friday last.

Now that the bracelets and neckties which Santy brought us have lost something of their newness, it might be of interest to turn our attention to New Year resolutions. We have pieced together a few scattered fragments and submit them.

The baseball enthusiast: I'll make the team or bust.

Sheddian: I will quit fishing.

Sparkman: I'll save up my pennies and build me an howse.

Blocker: I shall certainly watch him.

Robinson: I must quit using the dictionary.

Prof. Staley: I shall certainly watch him.

The Chicago crowd: We shall try to learn to like to eat hominy.
